Dr Thomas's book is the result of extensive research in Madrid archives and reveals a detailed familiarity with both the technical and the financial side of printing. The more statistical results of her researches are reproduced in two lengthy appendices: a book trade personnel and b expenditure and production. Both of these will be of great interest to researchers on the activities and output of Madrid printers during the important period covered by the study. The library taking an interdisciplinary approach this new volume brings together innovative research, new concepts and novel developments in the application of new tools in green chemistry and sustainable technology. The diverse coverage includes chapters on ionic liquids as green solvents, an environmentally friendly approach to the synthesis and biological evaluation of  $\alpha$  aminophosphonate derivatives, the application of nanotechnology in biological sciences and green chemistry, eco friendly polymers, the effect of global warming and greenhouse gases on environmental system and more.

This proceedings book collects the conference articles and abstracts presented at RICTA 2014, the 2nd Iberian Meeting on Aerosol Science and Technology, also named Reunión Ibérica de Ciencia y Tecnología de los Aerosoles, held during July 7-9, 2014, in Tarragona, Spain. RICTA 2014 is the second Portuguese-Spanish meeting on aerosol science and technology like the previous RICTA Congress held in 2013 in Évora, Portugal. RICTA 2014 is the continuation of the successful RECTA Reunión Española de Ciencia y Tecnología de Aerosoles conferences which have been held in Spain since 2007. RICTA 2014 has been organized by the Droplets Interfaces and Flows Dew Research Laboratory of the Universitat Rovira i Virgili with the collaboration of the Asociación Española de Ciencia y Tecnología de los Aerosoles (AECYA). The congress was held at the Campus Catalunya of the Universitat Rovira i Virgili. As in previous editions of RICTA and RECTA, the participation of young researchers has been encouraged with the organization of the 5th Summer School on Aerosol Science and Technology as well as awards for the best poster and PhD thesis. This book comprises three parts: the conference program, the conference articles, and the conference abstracts.

In the politics of care work, Emma Amador tells the story of Puerto Rican women's involvement in political activism for social and economic justice in Puerto Rico and the United States throughout the twentieth century. Amador focuses on the experiences and contributions of Puerto Rican social workers, care workers, and caregivers who fought for the compensation of reproductive labor in society and the establishment of social welfare programs. These activists believed conflicts over social reproduction and care work were themselves high stakes class struggles for women, migrants, and people of color in Puerto Rico. They organized for women's rights, socialism, labor standards, and Puerto Rican independence. They continued this work in the United States by advocating for migrant rights, participating in the civil rights movement, and joining Puerto Rican-led social movements. Amador shows how their relentless efforts gradually shifted the field of social work toward social justice and community-centered activism. The profound and enduring impact of their efforts on Puerto Rican communities underscores the crucial role of Puerto Rican women's caregiving labor and activism in building and sustaining migrant communities.
